

SIX STRING SLAUGHTER

Release: Born Unspoiled CD (2014)
Media: Metalized Magazine
Rating: 8/10

Six String Slaughter from Frederikssund/Slagelse already proved their worth with their two self-released mini's The World Slaughter (2009) and The Next Slaughter (2010), but have now taken the final step into the Death Metal Super League.

Born Unspoiled is the guys' first full-length, released through American label Horror Pain Gore Death Productions and contains crushing brutal, yet catchy Death Metal inspired by early Death and Grind pioneers like Terrorizer, Brutal Truth, Konkhra and last but not least Deicide, but also with a fine dose of Thrash influences ala Kreator or Slayer. Hell, there's even a bit of Melo-Death to be found here and there as the riffs are often sneakingly melodic without ever being wimpy in any way.

It's obvious that the band members have more than 20 years of experience in this game and include past members of Corpus Mortale, Iron Fire, Granhammer and Deicated among others as everything is professional to the nines while still maintaining an organic feel – backed up by a pretty massive productions from the guys' own Six String Studios.

It's Danish, it's delightful! Buy dammit!
